Prof. Gram Crackers Answers All Queries

Professor to Broadcast Over
Station KNUT on January
6, 7 and 8.

LEGIONNAIRES READY

Is there anything troubling you? If so drop a line to Professor Gram Crackers, in care of the American Legion Minstrels, Narberth Theatre, and you will have your answer broadcast over Station KNUT by the Professor on January 6-7-8 at 8:15 P. M.

This is only one of the many features of the Radio Minstrels, for according to the latest reports, Clarence Long will be able to sing the song he made famous.

If you have never seen the interior of a broadcasting station now is your chance to see how it is all done. And how. And we are going to have a big surprise act that will be worth while. Art Cooke, Russell Green, Bill Durbin and the rest of the boys are all ready to go. As for the male chorus—well, words cannot do justice to it.

As all the seats are reserved it is necessary to exchange your ticket at the ticket office of the theatre before the show as there are no general admission tickets. As the seats are being reserved very rapidly it is advisable to secure yours as soon as possible in order to get good seats.

Reserved seats are also on sale at the theatre office and will aid the Legion just the same as if purchased from a member.

"The Cock-Eyed World" is the picture and "says I" it is worth seeing.

Rotarians Asked For More Sympathetic Understanding

"Every business person, in his store, shop or office, has an opportunity to render spiritual service to the public equal to that of the minister in his pulpit." That was the declaration made by the Rev. Robert E. Keighton, pastor of the Baptist Church of the Evangel, Narberth, at a meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club, held in the Cynwyd Club Tuesday noon.

The dominie, in an eloquent plea for a wider, deeper use of Rotary's watchword "Service," affirmed that that business man's year will have been a happy, worth-while one, whose comprehension of his customer's or client's needs has extended to the "inner man, Pesky and Troublesome, sometimes; but filled, as are we all, with unexpressed sorrows, hopes and perplexities."

Attended Convention

Dr. Leroy A. King, secretary of the Narberth School Board and professor of Educational Administration at the University of Pennsylvania, attended the convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Association held last week at Newcastle, Pa. Dr. King, a delegate from Penn., acted as president of a research section.

Cellar Fire Causes $1100 Damage

Home of William Thompson,
103 Merion Avenue, Was Scene Monday.

WORST DURING YEAR

Monday, December 30, saw the most serious fire of the year in Narberth when excelsior set ablaze in the basement of the home of William Thompson, 103 Merion Avenue, started a fire which caused damage of $1100 to the property. The alarm was sent in at 10:30 A. M.

The fire is supposed to have been started by a child playing with matches in the basement. Excelsior caught fire and spread to inflammable parts of the cellar. The damage was covered by insurance.

Heavy clouds of dense smoke hindered the firemen at their work. Hose lines were placed so as to pour streams into the cellar and the blaze was over inside of twenty minutes. Due to the prompt action of the firemen, the flames were confined entirely to the basement, and the upper parts of the house suffered only from smoke. Gas masks, kept in the Fire Company's equipment for such an emergency, proved unavailing in the dense smoke.

Great credit is due the Narberth Company in this fire, for without quick action the blaze would have gathered headway, and gone right up through the house.

Temperature on Rise

A cold Christmas Eve and Christmas Day were followed in the Main Line section by gradually rising temperatures, according to the report of Co-operative Weather Observer Charles Decker, of Narberth. The high-low mercury readings for the week are as follows: Tuesday, 24th, 26-20; Wednesday, 31-18; Thursday, 36-17; Friday, 42-30; Saturday, 40-34; Sunday, 34-32; Monday, 40-26. The total snowfall for December was five inches.

Community Co-operation Was Outstanding Factor in Borough Life During Year 1929

The past year, whose obsequies have just been celebrated, was remarkable in many ways for community co-operation and progress in the Borough. The outstanding achievement was perhaps the reorganization and vitalizing of the recreation program, brought about by a renewed public interest, activities of a citizens' committee, the reorganized recreation board and the school's playground policy with a new director in charge.

Of interest to all residents were the two reductions in taxes, a one mill cut in the Borough Tax and a reduction of $2 in the school per capita tax. Also of import to all citizens of the Borough

Charles V. John, of Wayne, is art director. They are being assisted in the construction of the sets by Lewis A. Easby, of Narberth; Richard Y. Medary, of Bala, and Herbert Stratton, of Overbrook.

This rollicking home-life comedy, written and acted by the popular stage star, Frank Craven, is being produced under the direction of Marian Sponsler, president of the organization, assisted by Lisel Boericke, of Wynnewood. Dorothy Loder, of Haverford, is in charge of the tickets, which may also be purchased at the door the night of the performance.

Time Out

Lower Merion High School finished the old year of 1929 with three major sport championships out of four. In track they won the Suburban Class A Championships in the spring. They also finished the basketball season in early March of the year with the A League flag at the top of the flagpole. Then, of course, more recently they mowed down all opposition for the football championship. Only in baseball were they unable to top the list.

If Coach Bill Anderson should lose all five members of his first-string varsity, he would still win the majority of his games in the Suburban League and have a very successful year. On his reserve list, with Seaver Rose at center, Keith Parks and Hughie Wynn at the guard posts, John Blair and Henry Gane at forwards, he would sport a fast, aggressive combination. This group would make up a fine defensive team, but would not have the high-scoring qualities that the first five possess. As substitutes, Roy Williams, Joe Dorsey and Ernie Parks would be able to furnish the necessary assistance.

Haverford High School toppled Episcopal Academy over in a rather easy win in basketball just before the holidays after the latter had won 13 consecutive games. For such an impressive beginning for the Ford line-up, it was a severe shock to their followers for Lower Merion to make such sport of them in their A League debut.

Warren Lockwood was one field goal behind young Dick Richards, of Norristown, last year in the race for the Public Ledger trophy for highest scorer in the Suburban A League division. Warren started his first league game this year with a different idea; result, eleven field goals.

Two practice sessions for the high school basketball squad and one for the junior high outfit during the holidays should keep them in shape for the early start after the New Year.

The Main Line Y. M. C. A. is doing a fine thing in sponsoring the Y. M. C. A. and Church Leagues in basketball. It gives many boys who are unable to make the teams in the schools a chance to continue their development in this fine sport. More than a dozen teams are now playing a regular schedule in these leagues.

The competition in the junior high basketball league will be more keen than ever this season. Haverford Junior High has completed their new gymnasium and they will be able to practice regularly this year. In the past they have had only one practice session a week, having to share the one gymnasium with the senior high group and the girls' team. They have one of the finest squads in the suburbs this year.

Boosters Retain Lead

The Boosters still maintain their three-point lead over the Lions in the Narberth Interchurch Bowling League, and with only one more match to play it is not likely they will be overtaken.

Retired Haverford

Engineer, Wilfred Lewis, Dies on World Tour

Wilfred Lewis, of Rose Lane, Haverford, former president of the Tabor Manufacturing Company, at Wissinoming, died at sea when on a round-the-world cruise with his wife, it was learned on Monday. He was seventy-five.

News of Mr. Lewis' death was contained in a cablegram from Cairo, Egypt, to his son, Leicester Lewis, of Woodlane Road, Bryn Mawr. Although the cablegram stated that his death occurred December 19 from apoplexy, the son believes that is a mistake and that the death occurred Sunday. The body was buried at sea from the steamship President Wilson.

Mr. Lewis, who had received many signal honors for his accomplishments in engineering, had attended a convention of the Institute of Industrial Efficiency in Tokio, had visited several points in China and was on the return half of the voyage, expecting to arrive home in May. He retired from business a year ago.

Mrs. Lewis, the former Miss Emily

Shaw Sargent, will leave the ship at Cairo and start immediately for the United States, arriving here next month.

A New Year's Thought

A new year is like a hill of snow—with not a footmark or path to mar its pure whiteness.

It is like a sheet of artist's paper—smooth and clean, before pen or brush has made its transforming mark.

It is Opportunity, rich and golden, for those who want to start entirely new in the pursuit of their particular kinds of happiness.

So we wish you "Godspeed" through the coming year, hoping that you may see your objectives clearly, pursue them diligently and culminate them successfully. Then we know that 1930 will be a "Happy New Year."

Discuss 'Miracle and Law' in Modern Bible Use

The fourth meeting of the Forum was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kaerber Thursday evening of last week. Rev. Robert E. Keighton led the discussion of the chapter, "Miracle and Law" from Dr. Fosdick's book, "The Modern Use of the Bible." This proved to be a very interesting subject of discussion, involving the question of miracles and what significance they may have for the inhabitant of the modern world in which apparently miracles play no part.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clarence T. Faries, 334 Fairhill Road, Wynnewood, at 8 o'clock, on the evening of Thursday, January 9. At that time, Dr. Fosdick's chapter, "Jesus, the Messiah," will be considered. Although these meetings are held in private homes, they are open to all who care to attend.

Narberth Theatre Notes

Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe and Lily Damita are among the stars who will entertain in "The Cock-Eyed World" at the Narberth Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8:15.

This Friday and Saturday the Narberth Theatre is staging "Big Time," an all-talking Fox Movietone drama, in which Lee Tracy, Mae Clarke, Josephine Dunn, Daphne Pollard and Stepin Fetchit will do song-and-dance acts. Scheduled for added attractions are "His Baby Days," a talking comedy, and a Movietone vaudeville act, Gus Edwards' Revue.

College Students Aid Mail Delivery

Many Boys Home for Holidays Enrolled in Post Office Force.

MORE XMAS CARDS SENT

An incoming Christmas mail which equaled or exceeded last year's in volume was reported this week by the Narberth Post Office. The outgoing mail was not quite as heavy as last year, postal authorities state. An increased use of greeting cards was noted.

The efficient delivery of the holiday mail was due in large measure to the corps of extra carriers and clerks, many of them college students home for vacation. The force of assistants was composed of the following: Benjamin Lanahan, Thomas McCartan, John L. Baker, Stanley Thomas, Charles Hammer, Charles Henry, Elmer Jenkins, Robert Harris, John Mulligan, George B. Maguire, Eugene Lane, Lee Magarity, John McNiven, Chester Jones and A. N. Daback.

Among the misfortunes of the Christmas season were 346 cards received at the Narberth office which bore the wrong address and no return address. These helped to swell the stacks at the dead letter office at Washington. Three hundred others bearing the wrong address were returned to the senders.

The biggest rush at the Narberth Office came on Sunday before Christmas, when the force worked all day making several deliveries. Everything that was received on Christmas afternoon was delivered that evening.

Grateful for Aid

Success marked the Christmas party given for poor children in this section by the Miller-Merkle Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Monday of last week at the Egyptian Theatre, Cynwyd. To Bala-Cynwyd business men for their donations, children and parents for their attendance and the Egyptian Theatre for its co-operation, thanks were extended this week by H. J. Carter, adjutant of the veterans' post.

Many additional baskets of foodstuffs were distributed by Lower Merion police as a result of the party.

'Broadway' Coming

"Broadway," the stage production that made an even more phenomenal hit as a talking picture, will be the Narberth Theatre's attraction next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. More superlatives have been spent in praise of this "talkie" than on the "Broadway Melody," and unlike other recent song-and-dance films, "Broadway" is noted for its strikingly vivid story.

Miss Helen Sterling Weds Mr. Thomas E. Van Meter

The marriage of Miss Helen Cornell Sterling, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob M. Baer, of Shirley Road, to Mr. Thomas E. Van Meter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewis Van Meter, of Lexington, Kentucky, took place last Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the residence of her uncle and aunt.

The Reverend John Van Ness, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Baer.

The bride, who was attended by Miss Jane Whitlock as maid of honor, wore a gown of white satin trimmed with Alencon lace. The cap of her wedding veil was made of the same lace and was held in place by sprays of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley; the centre of the bouquet was of sweetheart roses.

Miss Jane Whitlock wore a peach moire frock gracefully trimmed with brown tulle which blended with the coloring of the gown. Her shower bouquet was roses.

Mr. Harry C. Middleton, Jr., was the best man and the ribbon bearers were Miss Joanne Brosius, of Wilmington, Del., and Master Harry C. Middleton, 3d.

Mrs. Thomas Lewis Van Meter, mother of the bridegroom, was present at the ceremony.

A reception was held after the ceremony followed by a dance. Al Meyers and his orchestra furnished the music.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Van Meter will reside in Chicago.

Drama on the Main Line. The Main Line Repertory Theatre offers some frank statements. Coming attractions in the Philadelphia Theatres.

"We have made innumerable appeals for increased membership of the Main Line Repertory Theatre in the last year. The response has been somewhat stunted and we have been scratching our heads to fathom the reason. Certainly the Main Line is far behind its neighboring communities in Little Theatre spirit. Germantown and Chestnut Hill boast of several well-organized drama organizations. So does Philadelphia. The Main Line has only the annual productions of its community clubs to its credit.

"Our present membership must be increased to two hundred members before our season closes this spring. Therefore we begin the new year with a membership drive, and call for evidence of interest to insure the permanence of a Little Theatre on the Main Line.

"Joining our organization does not imply a lot of hard work. The amount of time expended is entirely up to the individual. One's contribution may vary from the playing of a part, to play reading or technical advice. There are no age restrictions. There need be no qualifications other than an interest in drama. The dues are trivial; a season ticket to our performances.

"Possibly the greatest stumbling block to our progress is the lack of permanent quarters. As soon as sufficient interest has been aroused, we can turn to the building of our own playhouse. In order that this dream may be realized we must have the backing of the entire Main Line.

"It is the evidence of your interest that we want just now, evidence that there are enough people on the Main Line for which to continue our organization. All individual inquiries will be welcome, also those of clubs, societies, etc., which are interested in us and would like to know more. Address us, care of Cunningham's Barn, Rosemont."

Otis Skinner laying aside the swash-buckling roles which he plays so beautifully, now returns in a delightful comedy, "Papa Juan," adapted from the Spanish of the Quinteros, popular playwrights of Madrid, and by the English Granville-Barkers. Here we have Mr. Skinner in a new portrait—a portrait of an aristocratic Spanish gentleman who is well on in years receiving the ripened touches of his art.

The authors have given much concern to the leading character of Papa Juan in his outlook on life, past and present, his kind philosophies, and his ability to direct the destinies of a brood of grandchildren.

As the kind patriarch, Mr. Skinner pictures an elderly gentleman whom life has mellowed, now arrived at the time when his comprehension, understanding and human compassion embraces all and leaves in its trail that understanding flavor which only a keen eye, a sharp tongue and a merry twinkle can produce. And he still has ambition—a longing hope to add one more generation to his assembled great-grandchildren present, some with their elders, to celebrate his birthday.

Mr. Skinner's engagement in "Papa Juan" at the Broad will be for two weeks, beginning Monday evening, January 6.

"Porgy," the Theatre Guild's dramatic and colorful picturization of lowly negro life in Charleston, S. C., and which has attained tremendous popularity both in this country and England, returns to the Broad Street Theatre for its farewell visit of one week beginning Monday, January 20.

Owing to the fact that "Porgy" played here before it was not included in this season's subscription of Guild plays.

With its poignant drama, its soul-stirring spirituals, its deep insight into the character of the negro of the South, its rich comedy scenes and its never-to-be-forgotten swing and tempo, "Porgy" ranks as a classic of its kind. It returns here with the original cast, numbering sixty-five players and production intact.

Going Ahead in 1930

There are many tasks that confront all of us who live on the Main Line in 1930. There are improvements to be made and conditions to be corrected. We shall all have to put our shoulders to the wheel with aggressive enthusiasm if we are to bring about the conditions we advocate.

It is important that we conserve and further develop the natural beauty of the section. Healthy shade trees, well-kept lawns, beautiful shrubbery, good architecture and general tidiness add not only to our pride in our community, but add greatly to the actual value of property and no substitute can ever give the Main Line the national prestige as a residential section that it has thus far enjoyed. The intrinsic charm of the section is perhaps one of the most valuable heritages we now enjoy and every effort should be made to keep it up to this standard or to surpass it.

In line with this the zoning commissions of the various townships and borough have a serious obligation in seeing that all new development falls into line aesthetically with that which has gone before. This means that there must not be unwarranted exceptions to the zoning codes and that an unusually high standard must be preserved.

Certain beauty spots are entirely in the hands of private individuals, such as the section along Mill Creek, the country places on either side of Bryn Mawr, the wooded land behind Radnor, the historic spots near Valley Forge, etcetera. In many cases these spots are kept in a state that could hardly be approached by municipal ownership, and it is heedless to advocate their confiscation as public parks.

Our commercial outlook for the year that has just started is deserving of more than passing thought. For years this paper has been crying that local merchants must meet metropolitan stores in variety of stock and in competitive prices. When this point is reached, which it is now in many cases, much of the problem will be solved. The credit for the progress made thus far is due to the foresight and perspicacity of the business men themselves and they will ultimately reap the benefit of their extended service. The habit of buying at home is not an easy one to establish when Main Line shoppers have for so many years accustomed themselves to the inconvenience of shopping in the city.

As our retail market becomes locally more secure there will be an advantage to every householder in convenience and in increase of property value. It is, therefore, a favor to ourselves to do as much buying in the neighborhood as possible.

While all of us are proud of the manner in which our townships and borough are governed and in the comparison to other suburban sections, the average voter and householder is sadly apathetic to his local government, makes few demands on the local politicians, and is satisfied to let things drift along about as they are. No political organization is perfect and it is amazing that our local ones function so well in behalf of the public when it is so apparent that the mass of the public is so completely indifferent. It might be well for many more of us to acquaint ourselves with the situation during 1930 and decide how we may publicly serve the best interests of the community.

It would be a grievous oversight to overlook the cultural development of the Main Line. The growing success of the Main Line Orchestra is pleasing to its patrons and backers. Bryn Mawr College has been bringing internationally famous people to its new Goodhart Hall for lectures and other entertainments, most of which are available to the public. Haverford College continues, as it has for many years, to present world-famed scholars, scientists and other speakers at public gatherings. The Main Line Repertory Theatre is progressing in ability and appeal and may become an integral part of our social and cultural life. Other amateur and semi-amateur companies are likely to appear before us throughout the year.

In no community can real intellectual, spiritual and aesthetic progress be made unless the residents enjoy robust good health. The facilities for out-of-door sport and exercise have never been greater on the Main Line than today. We have numerous golf courses, tennis courts, cricket creases, soccer and football fields, running tracks, hunt clubs, swimming clubs and all facilities that should contribute to sound bodies for ourselves and our children.

We are enjoying a very happy state at the end of 1929. With the co-operation of everyone, we shall make 1930 an even more glorious year.

UNCLE CY'S COLUMN

Rebuked.

Today's mail from your editor brought in a communication in the form of a temperance broadside. An attached slip read "For Uncle Cy. Do not want him to get wobbly on the Temperance subject." This is the message:

WHO IS TO DRINK IT?

This is the report of an actual dialogue which took place between two American citizens the other day—one of them a business man, and the other a clergyman, to whom the business man spoke frankly, as one does to a good friend:

"Well," said the layman, with an air of finality, "Prohibition is a failure, and we must get used to the idea of making America wet once again."

"But who is to drink the liquor?" queried his friend. "Will you?"

"Why, no," he replied. "You know that I am a teetotaler."

"Will your son drink it?"

"No, that shall not be!"

"Would you want it to come back for the sake of your clerks?"

"No, it is my practice to discharge any clerks who drink liquor."

"Do you want your customers to drink it?"

"No, I would much rather not; I am sure that those who use strong drink will not buy so much from me nor pay their bills so promptly."

"Will you want the engineer on your train to use it?"

"No, I admit I don't want to ride on a drunkard's train."

"Ah, then, you want this liquor for the men whom you meet driving cars on the public highway?"

"No, of course not; that is a danger to everybody."

"Well, then, who is to drink this liquor in America, pray tell me?"

"I am not so sure that anybody should drink it. I guess we're much better off without it."

—Reformed Church Messenger.

Seriously, L. H. A., what do you think of it? In the first place it supposes that everyone who drinks is a drunkard, and that's absurd. The "Ah, then—" finished me. I only hope that the man or woman who wrote it will get soaked and chilled to the bone some day and have only ginger ale offered to him.

Let me state my position once more. I believe in and practice temperance, not only in drinking but in other matters. I admire and respect moderation. At the same time I believe the Eighteenth amendment to be a misguided effort to regulate the appetite of a nation, doomed to eventual failure, and based on an erroneous idea of the proper scope of law. In other words—"I'm again' it!"

Believe It Yourself.

Yesterday a prominent broker told me a yarn that illustrates the willingness of people to believe their own fancies.

An oil man applied for admission to Heaven and was told by St. Peter that the quota of oil men was filled and he'd have to wait till the New Year.

"Oil's been struck in Hell!" he shouted and immediately hundreds of oil men rushed out to leave him room inside the pearly gates.

The good saint said, "Come on in. You're pretty clever."

"I will not," he replied. "There might be something to that rumor."

Transfer Merion Property

W. Gordon Smith has just sold for Watson Malone, of Haverford, a piece of ground located upon the Northeast side of Baird Road at the foot of Heath Road, Merion. The property is attractively shaded and has a frontage of 120 feet on Baird Road with a depth of over 275 feet and lies between the estates of Margaret R. Bowes and J. Alden Tift. The purchaser, whose name is undisclosed, proposes to erect at once a fine all-stone Colonial residence containing about 15 rooms and four baths. There will be a two-car garage. The residence, when completed, together with the lot, will represent an expenditure of $50,000.

Lower Merion Swimmers Show Promise in Meets

The Lower Merion High School swimming team is out for another successful season this year under the coaching of F. C. Cranmer. Bob Roach was elected captain early in the season, but his ineligibility made it necessary to elect another one. Steve Gimber was given this honor at a recent election.

The team has already had two meets and while losing both of them they showed much promise for future results. The first was with West Chester at the Y. M. C. A. pool in the Chester County capital. The foreigners won by a 41 to 24 score. The other pre-Christmas swim was at Coatesville against the high school there. Again Lower Merion lost, this time by a 39 to 26 count.

Jim Donnelly, Steve Gimber, Frank McDevitt and Bob Alexander are the boys who do the best work at present and make up the relay team. If Bob Roach and Jimmy Maguire become eligible they will make the team much more formidable, as they are both strong swimmers.

Other boys on the squad are Connie Wickham, Embury Rucker, Slim

Dogs Must Be Licensed Promptly For New Year

The State will not tolerate delay among owners in securing 1930 licenses for dogs, according to Secretary of Agriculture C. G. Jordan, and John L. Passmore, in charge of dog law enforcement activities.
"The law requires that every dog must be licensed not later than January 15," they explain. "Dog owners who disregard the law are subject to a fine of $5 to $100 or a jail sentence of 30 days."
"The County Treasurer is the only official in a county who can issue dog licenses. Dog owners can secure licenses directly from the County Treasurer's office or make application to a local Justice of the Peace, or Magistrate, who will submit the properly executed application with the fee to the County Treasurer. The license will then be mailed."

Main Line Facts

The Merion Cricket Club, in addition to being one of the most exclusive clubs in the section, is also the oldest. It was founded in 1865 by William Montgomery and Maskell Ewing. In the '70s it acquired a small tract of ground in Ardmore and erected its first clubhouse, a frame building. By so doing it gave its name to Cricket Avenue.

The club purchased the ground at its present location on Montgomery Avenue, Haverford, in 1891, and the first game of cricket was played there in August of 1892. The original clubhouse was twice destroyed by fire in 1896, but it was restored after the second blaze. Several additions have been built since then, the most recent of which, a new locker room, was opened last year.

Nearly Hundred Dogs Judged at Recent Show

The Main Line Kennel Club's dog show, held at the Cynwyd Fire Hall Saturday evening, December 14, was a marked success. Nearly a hundred dogs were benched, including a number of circuit winners.

Entries were from all parts of the Main Line. A number of beautiful cups were presented the winners.

Credit for success of the club's first indoor show goes to President Peter C. Barr, Superintendent William Foot—both of Cynwyd—and their supporters.

Thank You!

Behind the doors of this organization, the heart of New Year is beating strong. Through the clamor of business the steady throbbing grows stronger, until it blends and merges in a carol of appreciation for the loyal support of our friends during the year just passed.

May New Year's mark the fulfillment of your desires and hopes and may it bring to you a new measure full to overflowing with prosperity and happiness.
